Economists in the field of industrial organization, antitrust, and regulation have long recognized certain factors as potent determinants of opportunistic behavior, corruption, and "capture" of government officials. Only now are these relationships becoming conventional wisdom among specialists in economies in transition.

Community Policing

Defined provides a detailed description of the elements and subelements that fall under the community policing philosophy. The document describes the range of collaborative partnerships that exist between policing agencies and the individuals and organizations they serve; it outlines the process of how they go about engaging in the proactive and systematic examination of identified problems to develop effective responses; and it illustrates how they align their organizational management, structure, personnel, and information systems to support community partnerships and proactive problem-solving.

Language Awareness in the Classroom addresses the central educational question of the impact that explicit language knowledge has on learning and language learning. A substantial Introduction defines the issues and key concepts and relates them to contemporary educational policy and practice in Europe and internationally. The papers are organised into four thematic sections: the extent and nature of language awareness in teacher education; school-based language awareness programmes; tertiary education initiatives and modes of evaluation of language awareness programmes. Evidence-Based Crime Prevention Penguin Crime prevention policy and practice is, on the whole, far from objective. Instead of being based on scientific evidence, the crime policy agenda is seemingly driven by political ideology, anecdotal evidence and programme trends. Evidence-Based Crime Prevention seeks to change this by comprehensively and rigorously assessing the existing scientific knowledge on the effectiveness of crime prevention programmes internationally. Reviewing more than 600 scientific evaluations of programmes intended to prevent crime in settings such as families, schools, labour markets and communities, this book grades programmes on their scientific validity using the 'scientific methods scale'. This collection, which brings together contributions from leading researchers in the field of crime prevention, will provide policy-makers, researchers and community leaders with an understandable source of information about what works, what does not work and what is promising in preventing crime.

 This strategic report is Europol's flagship product providing information to Europe's law enforcement community and decision-makers about the threat of serious and organised crime to the EU. The SOCTA is the cornerstone of the multiannual policy cycle established by the EU in 2010. This cycle ensures effective cooperation between national law enforcement agencies, EU institutions, EU agencies and other relevant partners in the fight against serious and organised crime. Building on the work of successive EU organised crime threat assessments (OCTA), produced between 2006 and 2011, and in line with a new methodology developed in 2011 and 2012, this is the inaugural edition of the SOCTA.

Global Administrative Law has recently emerged as one of the most important contemporary fields in public law scholarship. Concerned with developing fuller understandings of patterns in global governance, it represents one of the most insightful ways of viewing the multifarious forms of public power that now exist beyond the State. The present collection brings together some of the leading scholars working in the field of global administrative law to address past and future challenges related to global governance. Each of the contributions picks up on the more general theme of the values that do or should inform global administrative law, and the book in this way provides a novel and thought-provoking commentary on this most engaging area of debate. Values in Global Administrative Law will be of interest to public lawyers, social and political scientists and scholars of international relations. It will also be an invaluable resource for undergraduate and postgraduate courses that touch partly or exclusively on the challenges of global governance.

The Autobiography of the People in Verse

Medialeaders

Introduction Over 70% of women are abused, unemployed or underemployed, and because I have been blessed by God to have a wonderful family and calling, I feel that it is my duty to help as many women as possible receive even a measure of the blessing that has been bestowed upon me and my family. To this end, I give my time effort and talent to help expand and promote the programs and services for the protection of women: Of recent there has been an outburst of killings and violent attacks towards women. Well I have decided to embark on a noble quest to protest against women abuse, to moan recent killings and beatings and violent attacks and raping therefore I have written this book to raise awareness and educate the world, to teach people that women need to be protected, celebrated, appreciated and emancipated. I hope this book finds you doing well, I have written this book as a dedication to celebrate women and relay the message. This book contains short stories and poems. These are great stories and poems that seek to educate the world about the importance of women, how women should be treated and considered. The stories and poems in this collection are derived from the day to day real life and ordeals that women experience, ranging from romance to horror, the contents of this volume simply depicts the life of a woman, her experiences in the society and how she is treated, it also seeks to highlight the ideal life and treatment suitable for our beloved women. I want you to support women, to advocate women with me, I want you to celebrate and appreciate women, show your care and show your love. I want you to know that women are sweet, smooth, smart, uplifting, that they are full of love. I also want you to know that without a woman there is no functionality in a man's life. I want you to realize that women are special, and I want you to start treating women as the most diligent and delicate form of creation. Women are precious; they are full of love, delicate, sweet soft, nice and fragile and hence they to be protected. Women are like ice-cream, they are sweeter than banana porridge and they need to be loved. This is why I have written this book in celebration of women, and now I want you to celebrate with me. I want you to enjoy the contents of this book. Well I know that you love women, and I know that you real care, I intend to make the world a safe place for women, and I intend to erect a shelter for abused women. THE RADICAL MOVEMENT AGAINST WOMEN ABUSE was established to help support and protect women. My goals are to ensure that women get the protection and support needed for them to lead fully independent lives; to empower and help them realize that femininity need not stand in the way of achieving their dreams. The movement strives toward this goal through art programs, poetry, and through the grassroots efforts. In order to keep these programs running, the movement needs raise the funds to support these efforts. Therefore, I am writing to ask you to sponsor me and support this wonderful moment simply by buying this book! It's very simple, by buying this book you are supporting the movement against women abuse and you are actually showing your love. The goal of this book is not just to raise money. It is also to raise awareness and to educate the world about the importance of women. You know that (DAUGHTER, MOTHER, SISTER, WIFE etc.) are women. And you are probably aware of the struggles that women face in their everyday lives. These struggles are not about how to get around or how to do things in life; they are about overcoming the misconception that women are weaker a weaker sex and can't get around or do the simple things in life or make independent decisions. These challenges include such social ills like rape, violence, passion killings and other forms of abuse. E-business & E-commerce Harvard Business Press

In 2004, Kentaro Toyama, an award-winning computer scientist, moved to India to start a new research group for Microsoft. Its mission: to explore novel technological solutions to the world's persistent social problems. Together with his team, he invented electronic devices for under-resourced urban schools and developed digital platforms for remote agrarian communities. But after a decade of designing technologies for humanitarian causes, Toyama concluded that no technology, however dazzling, could cause social change on its own. Technologists and policy-makers love to boast about modern innovation, and in their excitement, they exuberantly tout technology's boon to society. But what have our gadgets actually accomplished? Over the last four decades, America saw an explosion of new technologies – from the Internet to the iPhone, from Google to Facebook – but in that same period, the rate of poverty stagnated at a stubborn 13%, only to rise in the recent recession. So, a golden age of innovation in the world's most advanced country did nothing for our most prominent social ill. Toyama's warning resounds: Don't believe the hype! Technology is never the main driver of social progress. Geek

Heresy inoculates us against the glib rhetoric of tech utopians by revealing that technology is only an amplifier of human conditions. By telling the moving stories of extraordinary people like Patrick Awuah, a Microsoft millionaire who left his lucrative engineering job to open Ghana's first liberal arts university, and Tara Sreenivasa, a graduate of a remarkable South Indian school that takes children from dollar-a-day families into the high-tech offices of Goldman Sachs and Mercedes-Benz, Toyama shows that even in a world steeped in technology, social challenges are best met with deeply social solutions.
