GEO kompakt 71/2022 - Die Geburt der Maschinen GEolino
 A heartstopping, poignant, epic adventure story about a boy destined to live forever, who only wants to grow up. Without death, life is just existence. Have you ever wondered what it would be like to live forever? Well, Alfie Monk can tell you. He may seem like an ordinary eleven-year-old boy, but he's actually more than a thousand years old--and remembers the last Viking invasion of England, not to mention the French Revolution and both World Wars. Way back in the tenth century, he and his mother were given the alchemical secret to eternal life. But when everything Alfie knows is destroyed in a fire, and the modern world intrudes, he must embark on a mission--along with friends Aidan and Roxy--to find a way to reverse the process and grow up like a regular boy. This astonishing new novel from the author of Time Traveling with a Hamster, told in alternating perspectives by Alfie and Aidan, is a tour de force--a sweeping epic that takes you on an unforgettable, breathtaking adventure and asks big questions about the meaning of life.

 Higher Level Language Processes in the Brain is a groundbreaking book that explains how behavior research, computational models, and brain imaging results can be unified in the study of human comprehension. The volume illustrates the most comprehensive and newest findings on the topic. Each section of the book nurtures the theoretical and practical integration of behavioral, computational, and brain imaging studies along a different avenue, and each is supplementary. Readers with limited background knowledge on the methods are presented with an easy-to-read, state-of-the-art exposition that is conceptualized and written from a well-established point of view. Higher Level Language Processes in the Brain is intended for advanced undergraduate and graduate cognitive science students, as well as researchers and practitioners who seek to learn and apply scientific knowledge about human comprehension to reading analysis.

 Wie gut, dass es Kinder gibt, die sich um den Klimaschutz kümmern. Mädchen wie Greta. Und Jungs wie Gustav. Erinner ihr euch noch an den zehnjährigen Kölner, den wir euch in Heft 8/2019 vorgestellt haben? Gustav hatte Anfang des Jahres in GEolino gelesen, dass die italienische Stadt Bologna ihren Bürgern klimafreundliches Verhalten versüßt. Wer mit dem Fahrrad statt mit dem Auto fährt, kann sich dadurch Eisgutscheine verdienen. Coole Idee, fand Gustav - und stellte sie im Rat seiner Stadt vor. Die Ratsherren waren begeistert und unterstützten Gustav, seinen Vorschlag umzusetzen. Den ganzen September hindurch gab es darum in Köln Eis für junge Klimaschützer. Jungen und Mädchen, die viel Rad fuhren, wurden mit Gratiskugeln belohnt. Und Gustav? Kämpft längst dafür, die Aktion rasch zu wiederholen.

Gamification for Tourism John Wiley & Sons
 Nachdem wir das Thema dieser Ausgabe in unserer letzten Vorschau angekündigt hatten, erreichten uns nicht nur positive Zuschriften. Einige von Ihnen wollten wissen, was wir uns denn dabei gedacht hätten, ausgerechnet in der heutigen, an Katastrophen so reichen Zeit ein solches Heft zu planen. Natürlich können wir die globale Pandemie, den russischen Überfall auf die Ukraine und die eskalierende Klimakrise nicht wegdiskutieren, aber wir wollen das Argument umdrehen: Gerade weil unsere Gegenwart von verheerenden Ereignissen geprägt ist, sollten wir uns jetzt den Katastrophen der Vergangenheit widmen. Und ergründen, wie die Menschheit damit umgegangen ist. Denn Seuchen, Stürme, Erdbeben oder Vulkanausbrüche sind Konstanten der Geschichte. Sie sind existenzielle Erfahrungen, die sich tief in unser kulturelles Gedächtnis eingegraben haben und deren Bewältigung viel über die Mentalität einer Gesellschaft verrät. Der Schriftsteller Jörg-Uwe Albig hat diesem Thema einen Essay gewidmet, der konsequenterweise bei der Urkatastrophe beginnt: der biblischen Sintflut. Mit der Umwelt- und Klimahistorikerin Eleonora Rohland haben wir dagegen über eine andere, aber nicht weniger wichtige Facette gesprochen: Inwieweit hat der Mensch durch den technischen Fortschritt selbst Unheil über sich gebracht? Nicht nur die Todeszone um das havarierte Kernkraftwerk von Tschernobyl kündigt davon, auch der menschengemachte Klimawandel, der unter anderem zu einer Häufung extremer Wetterereignisse führt, legt diese Frage nahe. Nun taugt die Geschichte nur selten als stimmungsaufhellendes Mittel, trotzdem erwartet Sie auf den folgenden Seiten keine reine Aneinanderreihung an Schrecklichkeiten. Wir zeigen in unseren Artikeln auch, wie die Menschheit immer wieder ihren Überlebenswillen bewiesen hat - und aus Katastrophen ihre Lehren gezogen hat. Nicht zuletzt porträtieren wir vier Frauen und Männer, deren Taten man durchaus als heldenhaft bezeichnen kann. Ihre Geschichten stehen stellvertretend für all jene Katastrophen, die menschlicher Mut oder Erfindungsgeist verhindert oder zumindest abgeschwächt hat. Und das ist doch

eine Botschaft, die

From the author of the number-one international bestseller The History of Bees, a captivating story of the power of nature and the human spirit that explores the threat of a devastating worldwide drought, witnessed through the lives of a father, a daughter, and a woman who will risk her life to save the future. Thanks to the availability of texts on the Web in recent years, increased knowledge and information have been made available to broader audiences. However, the way in which a text is written—its vocabulary, its syntax—can be difficult to read and understand for many people, especially those with poor literacy, cognitive or linguistic impairment, or those with limited knowledge of the language of the text. Texts containing uncommon words or long and complicated sentences can be difficult to read and understand by people as well as difficult to analyze by machines. Automatic text simplification is the process of transforming a text into another text which, ideally conveying the same message, will be easier to read and understand by a broader audience. The process usually involves the replacement of difficult or unknown phrases with simpler equivalents and the transformation of long and syntactically complex sentences into shorter and less complex ones. Automatic text simplification, a research topic which started 20 years ago, now has taken on a central role in natural language processing research not only because of the interesting challenges it possesses but also because of its social implications. This book presents past and current research in text simplification, exploring key issues including automatic readability assessment, lexical simplification, and syntactic simplification. It also provides a detailed account of machine learning techniques currently used in simplification, describes full systems designed for specific languages and target audiences, and offers available resources for research and development together with text simplification evaluation techniques.

Liebe Leserin, lieber Leser, die Internetseite

Thispersondoesnotexist.com ist schlicht gehalten: Zu sehen ist allein der Schnappschuss eines Menschen. Mal einer Frau, mal eines Mannes, zuweilen freundlich in die Kamera blickend, dann wieder gedankenverloren an ihr vorbei. Doch diese Personen existieren nicht. Eine Künstliche Intelligenz errechnet die Menschenporträts bei jedem Aufruf der Seite neu. Wer sich mit Künstlicher Intelligenz (KI) und Robotik beschäftigt, erlebt viele solche irritierenden Momente, in denen man seinen Augen und Ohren nicht traut. Etwa wenn im Video "Do you love me" der Roboterfirma Boston Dynamics die Kolosse ihre metallenen Hüften mit mehr Feingefühl schwingen als die meisten Menschen. Solche Projekte verblüffen, sind aber letztlich Spielereien. Die wahre Revolution findet anderswo statt: in Forschungslaboren, in Werkhallen, in Krankenhäusern. Gigantisch sind die Hoffnungen: Wo der Mensch von Problemen überwältigt ist, könnte KI helfen: Sie könnte unsere Städte gegen den Klimawandel wappnen, Krankheiten heilen, durch eine schonendere Landwirtschaft die Biodiversität schützen und zugleich den Hunger weltweit stillen. Bedeutsam sind die Spielereien dennoch: Sie erschüttern unsere Wahrnehmung der scheinbar klaren Grenze zwischen beseelter und unbeseelter Natur. Können die technischen Geschöpfe jemals so sein wie wir Menschen? Können sie Gefühle entwickeln, gar ein Bewusstsein? KI und Roboter regen uns an, über uns selbst nachzudenken: Sind wir einzigartig? Und wenn ja, was macht unsere Einzigartigkeit aus? Diese Ausgabe von GEOkompakt soll Ihnen helfen, die Arbeitsweisen und Chancen der neuen Technologien zu verstehen, aber auch ihre Grenzen und Gefahren. Und vielleicht geht es Ihnen bei der Lektüre wie mir: Je mehr ich über Künstliche Intelligenz lerne, desto mehr stieg meine Achtung vor unserer eigenen – der menschlichen – Intelligenz. Viel Freude beim Blick in eine Gegenwart, die wie die Zukunft anmutet!

Unravel the mysteries of time, from the Maya calendar to Einstein's wormholes, in this fun and fact-filled exploration for young readers. In this thought provoking book, curious readers will discover all kinds of fascinating information about how and why we think about time. Chapters on mythology discuss Chronos, Janus, and the legend of the Phoenix. Others look at how different cultures perceive time—as a straight line or in circles? Young readers will learn how animals and plants tell time, how the study of longitude and latitude is related to clocks, and why an hour used to last one hundred minutes. Along the way, they'll encounter historic time pieces such as sundials, chronometers, and Al-Jazari's famous 12th-century elephant clock. The book also invites readers to ponder important questions about what time means to us today: can you actually save time? Can you run out of it? And is it really better to accomplish more in less time? These concepts are introduced in accessible chapters and illustrated with vibrant drawings. Absorbing and world-enlarging, this elegant book explores a challenging concept in an engaging way that encourages discussion and further learning.

Child Whispers Gruner + Jahr Magazine

A heartfelt, humorous story of a teen boy's impulsive road trip after the shock of his lifetime—told entirely in lists! Darren hasn't had an easy year. There was his parents' divorce, which just so happened to come at the same time his older brother Nate left for college and his longtime best friend moved away. And of course there's the whole not having a girlfriend thing. Then one Thursday morning Darren's dad shows up at his house at 6 a.m. with a glazed chocolate doughnut and a revelation that turns Darren's world inside out. In full freakout mode, Darren, in a totally un-Darren move, ditches school to go visit Nate. Barely twenty-four hours at Nate's school makes everything much better or much worse—Darren has no idea. It might somehow be both. All he knows for sure is that in addition to trying to figure out why none of his family members are who they used to be, he's now obsessed with a strangely amazing girl who showed up out of nowhere but then totally disappeared. Told entirely in lists, Todd Hasak-Lowy's debut YA novel perfectly captures why having anything to do with anyone, including yourself, is: 1. painful 2. unavoidable 3. ridiculously complicated 4. possibly, hopefully the right thing after all.

The Goat Springer

now a major motion picture directed by Gus Van Sant (My Own Private Idaho, Good Will Hunting, and Milk) It was an accident. He didn't mean to kill the security guard with his skateboard—it was self-defense. But there's no one to back up his story. No one even knows he was at Paranoid Park. Should he confess, or can he get away with it? It's an ethical question no one should have to answer. Writing more intensely than ever before, Blake Nelson delivers a film noir in book form, complete with interior monologue and dark, psychological drama. This is a riveting look at one boy's fall into a world of crime, guilt, and fear—and his desperate attempt to get out again.
