Hello, It looks like it is on the passengers side either near the foot well or just inside the engine compartment on the same side. Here is a diagram (below) of its location and the wiring diagram which can help you test the wiring and a guide to help test the relay.

Toyota followed standard design in creating the flasher relay location for the Sienna models. The flasher is mounted high on the firewall behind the dash. You will need to get on your back on the driver's side floor to view and reach the relay. Before replacing the flasher, check the turn signal fuse.
